

FENICS® renews its agreement to provide FX options data to ORE, a Leader in OTC option solutions

London, May 26, 2015: FENICS®, a leading provider of FX options software, announced today that it has renewed and extended its agreement with ORE, a leader in retail-friendly OTC option solutions for web, mobile and MetaTrader4 platforms. Under the terms of the agreement, FENICS will continue to provide ORE with its composite feed for FX options data derived from its premier option pricing, risk management, and lifecycle management software.

Zoe Fiddes Head of Sales at ORE, said: “Our philosophy is simple: create a great product and traders will use it. We focus on making options trading simple and accessible. We renewed and extended our agreement with FENICS because their FX option volatility data allows us to offer a stronger product to our customers and FENICS’ data offers us a deeper view of the market which provides great value to traders.”

“We are delighted to continue providing ORE with an independent and comprehensive view of the market, delivered in real time, through our FENICS XML API,” commented Diego Cruz, Head of Market Data Sales at FENICS said. “Covering more than 140 currency pairs, our offering is market leading and helps our clients like ORE innovate in the marketplace.”
